Report

Hello good people of Cue.

It's official, Summer is over, although conditions would perhaps lead one to question that. We certainly got a bit of follow up rain last month but didn't it subject us to a shocking spell of humidity? Oh well I hope it did good for the squatters. It does seem to have changed a bit towards the end of February and I am looking forward to that beautiful weather Autumn usually brings.

What a fantastic achievement has been made thus far on the "OASIS" project. I'm sure those of us who have been watching this development unfold, would agree that it is fast taking shape, and allowing us to imagine how wonderful it will look when completed. I think this is going to be a very important asset to our wonderful village, not only will it become a welcoming sign attracting tourism, it will, I believe, be a statement to everyone that Cue is alive and well, striving for growth and improvement, as well as being a nice place to live.

I have come to the conclusion, after the last twelve months, that there are two groups of people who use LP gas in their homes. Group one are the normal, clever thinking group, or the HAVES, then there's the opposite, the HAVE NOTS. The first group generally employ the "2" bottle principal. This method sees the user simply have two bottles of gas hooked up to the regulator at the same time, one being used to supply the house with gas while the other is in standby mode, or, "backup". The benefits of this system are that when the gas runs out of the first bottle it is simply a matter of opening the tap of the "backup" bottle and turning the lever on the regulator to once again have supply of gas to the house. As well as this handy benefit you will also give yourself plenty of time to acquire the funds necessary to obtain the next "backup" bottle. Group two use the "1" bottle idea. They usually find themselves running out of gas at the most inappropriate times and undergoing a certain form of anxiety. They will demand and expect that a fresh bottle of gas is supplied almost immediately and if this doesn't happen they will then ring up the distributor every couple of hours checking to see when one will arrive as well as having a whinge to all that will listen about how long they have been out of gas for. It is even possible, as was evidenced in January, if the distributor is away on a short holiday they will even ring the gas supplier (kleenheat) and complain about that. Also to be found with the second group is that after gas has been delivered they will become very disinterested in paying???

Great to see a good attendance at the table tennis last Wednesday. Even though it was the first night there were well over a dozen people enjoying themselves in a friendly atmosphere. Fantastic to see something for people to get involved in, well done to the organizers.

POLICE BEAT

Traffic

February has been the busiest month so far in terms of charges, in the last 12 months. Cue Police have charged a total of 13 people with 16 offences.

We have seized four vehicles each for 28 days. Two of those seizures related to excessive speed. If you travel over 155km/hour or at a speed of 45km/hour over the posted speed limit, your vehicle must be seized for 28 days.

On 17 February Cue Police stopped a probationary driver travelling at 160km/hour. She was subject to a preliminary breath test and was also subsequently charged for excess 0.02.

Of the remaining traffic offences, four people were charged with driving with a fine suspended licence, 1 for never holding a licence, 1 for a learner driver driving out of class and 1 for driving with an expired licence.

Crime

On the 9th February, as a result of a traffic stop on the Great Northern Highway, a female driver was found in possession of Cannabis. She has been summoned to the Cue Magistrate Court at a later date.

On 11th February Police were called to a disturbance in Cue as a result of excessive alcohol consumption. As a result two males have been summoned to court for disorderly conduct.

If you choose to drink and fight, expect to explain your behavior to the magistrate, we have a zero tolerance for this behavior and it sets a poor example for the children.

Community Involvement

The shire are putting in effort to start some community activities with Table Tennis and group fitness classes due to commence. It would be nice to see everyone get involved in some way, no doubt you will see us participating and giving it a try.

"IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE COMMUNITY"

Formerly the gold operations arm of Metals X, Westgold Resources have commenced ore carting operations from their Comet mine site on the Cue-Wondinong Road. Qube will be carting the ore in quad road trains during daylight hours via Patterson Street and the Great Northern Highway to the company's Bluebird processing plant near Meekatharra. Please take care when approaching the Patterson Street intersection as this area is also close to the Cue Tourist Park entry and may be very busy at times.

Progress has been steady on the Cue Oasis under construction at the corner of Victoria Street and the Great Northern Highway, however issues with materials and contractor availability has meant that the project's completion date is now expected to be the end of March.

Cue Oasis after primer coat seal. The addition of hot mix asphalt will reduce the potential for large RVs turning on hot days to damage the surface.

Restoration work has re-commenced on the Bishop's House, with new windows being installed and patching and painting of the interior underway. When completed, this building will be used for office and meeting space for the Works and Services department.

The date for tenders to be submitted on the redevelopment of the Old Post Office building into a new Community and Visitor's Centre has been extended until 8 March to allow invited tenderers more time to prepare their submissions. Tenders will be considered by Council at the March meeting.

The January rain that caused extensive damage to Beebyn-Karbar Road also caused massive damage to roads in other Shires and has therefore been declared a natural disaster event. This will allow the affected Shires to access Federal Government relief funds to undertake repairs. The Shire is currently waiting on an assessment of the road to determine the cost of repairs before calling tenders for the necessary works.

If you have any queries regarding these or any other Shire related matters, please don't hesitate to give me a call on 9963 8600 or drop into the Shire office.

The Rural in Reach Community Mental Health 1st Response Remote Training Package

Training Overview:

The Community Mental Health 1st Response (CMH1R) has been designed to incorporate mental health information and suggested strategies for responding when people present with mental health challenges or illnesses. This is in recognition that even though sometimes staff in rural locations do not have formal mental health qualifications, they are often the first contact for people experiencing challenges in these areas. This package aims to be inclusive of diverse educational, cultural backgrounds and geographical locations through ease of online access.

CMH1R Package Development:

The CMH1R training package was developed over two years through consultation with rural Community Resource Centres and Service Provider Working Groups, plus rigorous trials rurally and metro based. The content is trauma informed and recovery focussed using the latest information, research and both national and state relevant statistics.

Modules and Reflection Session:

- Module 1: Basic Mental Health and 1st Responses
 - Module 2: Common Mental Health Illnesses and 1st Responses
 - Module 3: Communication, Boundaries, Debriefing and 1st Responses
 - Module 4: Trauma, Crisis and 1st Responses
 - Module 5: Self Care and 1st Responses
- (Two weeks to complete)
- Reflection Session (via video conference in groups or individuals): 1-2 hours

CMH1R training package three step process:

1. Read the modules via an emailed access link (the modules can be printed at completion of each module)
2. Complete and submit the associated module Skills Check in the two weeks allocated
3. On completion of all 5 modules, the Rural in Reach team will contact you to set a Skills Reflection appointment. This is an opportunity to practice the skills learned from the modules through case studies.

Once these steps are finalised, participants will receive a certificate of achievement. Although CMH1R is not a formal qualification, this certificate acknowledges the increased knowledge and skills acquired.

Cost: $100 per participant

UNUSUAL RAT TRAP AND REMOVAL SYSTEM

Alan is a reptile removalist living in Warwick. He sent me this email recently with accompanying picture. It shows clearly that a snake has often worked hard for a meal and can be very reluctant to let that meal go, at almost any cost. An interesting call out, one that was easy to catch.

The snake was spotted in a back yard of a house in Padbury. A young teenage boy was left to stand by to watch while a parent went to make the call. While the teenager was watching the spot where the snake was last seen a rat ran past and started to run up the wall. The boy got to witness the snake strike out with the dugite lunging half way up the wall at the rat. It then refused to let the rat go whilst being captured by Alan.

The photo is of the release in Pinneroo. "I made sure he was well covered in leaves to ensure he could finish his meal in peace" said Alan.

Animal in Focus: Australian Raven Corvus coronoides

Often called crows, the Australian Raven is a very widespread species found in all but the most arid interior parts of WA and almost everywhere else in Australia. Two sub species are recognised. Ravens are entirely black with black wings, black mouth and tongue and black (sometimes dark grey) feet. The long beard like hackles (throat feathers) make them easy to identify. Adults are easily distinguished as the eyes whiten as they mature. They are large birds at 46-53 cm long with a 100cm wingspan, weighing in at around 650gms. Their raucous call is as well known as the Kookaburra. A pair wakes me up most morning, living and nesting about 20m away in a gum tree. Ah-ah-aaaah. Raven numbers have grown considerably as they exploit urban surroundings

(they just love our rubbish). They are expert at pulling trash from wheelie bins and foraging at roadsides and picnic areas.

A pair of Australian Ravens has a single brood a year. Both sexes share the building of a rather untidy nest consisting of sticks, bark, feathers and grasses. Shaped into a platform or bowl the female lays and incubates 3-6 eggs. Both sexes will care for and feed the young birds. Breeding commences from about 3 years of age and average wild life span is a further 3 to 4 years. One lucky adult 3+ years old was banded and re-caught over 12 years later. In captivity they can live around 22 years. In some areas of WA they are a declared agricultural pest species. A flock of 'crows' is called a murder. A group of Ravens is called an unkindness. Noongar beliefs have it that these birds helped carry the spirits of the dead across the sea to an idyllic location called Kurannup located over the horizon beyond both Rottnest and Garden islands.

AUSSIE SCORPIONS

Australian scorpions are nothing if not varied. I find tiny wood scorpions in my garden quite often. We have over 100 species – many are yet to be described by scientists. They inhabit a range of ecosystems. Most are found on the ground under rocks or deep in burrows, some kill the spider and use their trap door shafts, others live under bark on trees, many are solitary but at least one species, the Dwarf forest scorpion (Liocheles australasiae) lives in colonies 40m up in rainforest trees.

Luckily for us Australian scorpions do not have venom that is lethal to humans. If they sting it may hurt and burn for some time or feel little more like a bee sting – it depends on the species and the amount injected. Fortunately for us many scorpions hunt and eat spiders – so they are useful – if that's the right word.

All scorpions fluoresce under UV light – no one knows why. They cannot see this amazing fluorescence phenomenon themselves; it may be to lure in insects attracted to flowers (many flowers fluoresce), to ward off predators or to protect their exoskeletons from the sun – no one really knows.

Scorpions in general are well, very odd creatures – they were the very first predator to crawl out of the oceans onto the land some 430 million years ago. Some land based ones were once as large as a dog. Gestation can take up to 18 months, the live born young, called scorplings, gather on the females back until at least their first moult when they become independent.

BABY SNAKE SEASON IS NOW

As usual it's a busy time for us and other relocators as the baby snakes start to appear. Juvenile dugites in particular hatch in huge numbers and move away from their nest looking for food and shelter.

Most just don't get far – Kookaburras, other birds, lizards, foxes, cats, hawks and owls are amongst the predators that get most of them. Many however still end up in our homes, gardens and workplace.

Despite their size they are quick and potentially deadly – so do not take chances with them. If you are capable, and willing, use thick gloves and a brush or similar to sweep them into a bin or box for relocating. Not whilst wearing thongs! Sturdy footwear essential – I know they are tiny but still very dangerous.

Alternatively call a reptile relocater or pest control company, or if near Duncraig you can call me.

We do have a suburb by suburb list of snake removalists on our website. See here for link http://animalark.com.au/pdfs/snake_removalists_list.pdf

Help us spread the message that could save people's lives this bushfire season...

You CANNOT rely on scheme water during a bushfire

Residents living in or near bushland are reminded that they cannot rely on public water supplies if they plan to stay and defend their homes during a bushfire.

If you plan to stay and defend your home you must have an INDEPENDENT water supply and pumping capability. Scheme water may not be available due to damaged infrastructure, extreme demand depleting supply and pressure, or a cut to power which is used to pump water.

ARE YOU
BUSHFIRE

areyouready.wa.gov.au

Water Corporation has made preparations for the 2016-17 bushfire season by readying equipment and systems to cope with extreme conditions. Despite these efforts, it is likely there will be a reduction in water pressure, and scheme water supply tanks may run empty in the event of fire.

For more information about preparing a bushfire survival plan and what you will need to actively defend your home, visit the Department of Fire and Emergency Services website www.emergency.wa.gov.au/prepare

A message from the Department of Water

The Department of Water has advised people in bushfire prone areas with bores and access to surface water that they can take and store water to support bushfire plans.

As the Western Australian temperature rises Kidsafe WA continues to promote the 'Do Not Leave Children in Cars' campaign. This campaign aims to raise community awareness and reduce the number of children left unattended in parked cars in Western Australia.

Every year across Australia approximately 5,000 children are rescued from parked cars, with three-quarters of these children aged between zero and four years. Even on a cool day the temperature in a parked car can be over 30 degrees hotter than outside, and 75% of the total temperature rise can occur within the first five minutes of parking a car.

A Dogs Prayer

Treat me kindly, my beloved master, for no heart in the entire world is more grateful for kindness than the loving heart of me.

Do not break my spirit with a stick, for though I should lick your hand between blows, your patience and understanding will more quickly teach me things you would have me know.

Speak to me often: your voice is the world's sweetest music, as you must know by the wagging of my tail when your footsteps fall upon my waiting ears.

When it is cold and wet, please take me inside, for I am no longer used to the bitter elements and I ask no greater glory than the privilege of sitting at your feet beside the hearth.

Though you had no home, I would rather follow you through ice and snow than rest on the softest pillow in the warmest home.

Keep my bucket filled with fresh water for although I would not reproach you were it dry, I cannot tell you when I suffer thirst.

Feed me clean food, that I may stand well, to romp and play and do your bidding, to walk by your side, and stand ready: willing, and able to protect you with my life, should your life be in danger.

Then, my beloved Master, should the great master seek to deprive me of my health and spirit, do not turn me away.

Rather hold me gently in your arms as merciful sleep is administered, and I will leave you knowing with the last breathe I draw, my fate was ever safest in your hands.

PET OWNERS BEWARE

Under the wildlife recovery program Western Shield, the Department of Parks and Wildlife (DPAW) carries out 1080 fox and feral cat baiting operations on nearly three million hectares of land it manages. The program is working to bring native animals back from the brink of extinction by controlling introduced predators such as the European red fox and feral cat. As a result of baiting, many native animal species have increased in number or continue to persist in the wild.

1080 is poisonous to humans and will kill domestic cats and dogs.

1080 POISON RISK

Used meat or vegetable baits containing 1080 POISON are regularly placed in this area to control FOXES AND FERAL CATS.

1080 is poisonous to humans and will kill domestic dogs. Please leave your pet at home or prevent them from entering this area.

Contact your local DPAW office for information on the Western Shield and its Recovery Program.

Pet owners please be aware that large areas of State forest, national parks and nature reserves are baited throughout the year and must be considered dangerous areas for pet dogs and cats at all times. If visiting these areas it is advised that you leave your pets at home. Do not take your pets into areas baited with 1080.

Baiting operations extend from Karratha in the north, through the forests of the south-west to areas east of Esperance.

All baited areas are signposted (see example above). Pet owners are asked to observe 1080 warning signs and remain vigilant in preventing pets from entering baited areas.

Mosquito Control – Everyone's Responsibility

Are Mosquitos causing you a problem? If so, then what can be done to limit the numbers found on your property? Apart from fogging (like a large can of fly spray hitting those that are on the wing) done by the Shire it is the responsibility of all the people in town to take steps to limit the numbers. These are not big capital works, but rather small and targeted steps which stop the mosquito breeding in water, supplied by us the people.

We know the mosquito in numbers is a real nuisance to people and spoils the outdoor living and socializing we all love to do in the summer. We also know that the mosquito is capable of spreading quite serious diseases to us humans and may cause death of the person in severe cases.

Residents can assist with the control of nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes by making sure the mosquito does not have access to breeding sites on their properties. This can be achieved by;

- Sealing all gaps in lids of all septic tanks and ensure leach drains are completely covered with no access for mosquitoes to breed;
- Vent pipes on all septic tank systems must be fitted with mosquito proof cowls;
- Screen rainwater tanks with insect proof mesh, including inlet, overflow and inspection ports;
- Ensure guttering does not hold water;
- Dispose of all containers which hold water or invert them so that they cannot hold water;
- If you have ornamental ponds, make sure that they are stocked with mosquito-eating fish, e.g. goldfish;
- Keep margins free of vegetation;
- Keep swimming pools well chlorinated and filtered and free of dead leaves;
- Fill or drain depressions in the ground that hold water;
- Empty pot plant drip trays once a week or fill with sand. Empty and clean animal and pet drinking water once a week;
- Some pot plants (such as bromeliads) hold water in their leaf axils. These should also be emptied of water once a week.

Residents should also protect themselves by not being bitten by mosquitoes by:

- At home screen all doors and windows. Doors should be self-closing and open outwards;
- When camping, screen caravans, tents, swags and other sleeping equipment or use a mosquito net;
- Use repellents containing DEET (50-200g/litre diethyl toluamide) or Picaridin;
- Wear long loose fitting and preferably light-coloured protective clothing;
- Always take protective measures when mosquitoes are prevalent outdoors;
- Recognise and avoid areas of mosquito activity, e.g. wetlands, salt marshes, billabongs, river floodplains, etc.

Reducing mosquito numbers in our community and controlling potential nuisance and disease is everyone's responsibility. If you have any comments or questions on these matters, please contact the Shire on 08 9963 8600. Together we can Beat the Bite.

Mining rental increase 25 cents to $5.00

You have seen the ads funded by big miners, peddling myths about our plan to find a new revenue source for WA and balance the budget. Here are some of the facts.

The Facts:

- WA facilitated a massive expansion of the iron ore sector. 500,000 extra people came to WA during the boom. The equivalent of the entire Tasmanian population.
- The State government built and paid for the roads, hospitals, schools, power, water, and sewage to facilitate this expansion and employed the police, nurses and teachers to service the population increase.
- The GST system means that WA currently only keeps 30 cents of every dollar spent in WA because we generate our income from mining. The Eastern States benefit from our GST and their revenue from pokies is exempt from the GST formula.
- The 25 cents special lease rental contained in the Rio and BHP state agreements has been in place since the 1960's and has not changed!
- We propose to increase this rental to reflect modern prices, to $5.
- This is not a tax, it is a tax deductible rental fee for the miners.
- This Rental in 2015 raised $120 Million dollars WHICH STAYS IN WA.
- The rent increase over the next 4 years will raise $7.2 Billion WHICH STAYS IN WA.
- None of the money raised will go to the eastern States. Every dollar raised in WA will stay here. The Prime Minister promised a 75 cent floor in the GST during a recent visit to WA and The Nationals will hold him to account to ensure it is delivered.
- Our plan will not result in job losses. But the big miners are already automating mines, sending Australian jobs offshore and employing overseas workers in call centres and administration hubs instead of Western Australians. They continue to reduce costs and increase profits from a London-based boardroom. This despite record production out of Pilbara ports.
- Most BHP and RIO shareholders are overseas.
- In the next four years, BHP Billiton and Rio Tinto are expected to make $100 BILLION profit from your iron ore on a Treasury estimate of $60 USD a tonne.
- In 2015, Rio Tinto CEO Sam Walsh said the company's status as a low-cost producer enabled it to "thrive" at $38USD/t. Today, the price sits at over $90USD/t.
- These companies will still make record profits and export record tonnage.

The State Budget is Broken we either need to find a new revenue source, increase state debt or decrease services.

The Nationals WA won't be backing down from our fair plan for WA's future. Our team has never backed down from a fight to get a better deal for regional WA and this election is no different.

Biting insect and mosquito-borne disease risk increase across Western Australia

The Department of Health is warning residents and travellers to take precautions against biting insects following the widespread rainfall and recent flooding events across Western Australia.

Managing Scientist Environmental Health Hazards, Dr Michael Lindsay said the wet weather and flooding had created ideal conditions for breeding of mosquitoes and other biting insects across much of WA.

"While local government mosquito management programs are in place around WA, it is not realistic or logistically feasible to keep mosquitoes and biting flies below nuisance levels when such vast areas of the State are affected with the recent weather conditions," Dr Lindsay said.

"Increased mosquito activity is likely to result in an increased risk of the mosquito-borne diseases Ross River virus (RRV), Barmah Forest virus (BFV), Murray Valley encephalitis virus (MVEV) and Kunjin virus (KUNV) in some parts of WA."

Symptoms of infection with RRV and BFV include painful or swollen joints, sore muscles, skin rashes, fever, fatigue and headaches.

The warning comes as KUNV was recently detected in a sentinel chicken flock in the Pilbara. KUNV belongs to the same group of viruses as MVEV, both of which can only be transmitted by mosquitoes and are more common in northern regions of WA.

Dr Lindsay said for most people, disease caused by MVEV and KUNV had fairly mild symptoms such as headache, fever, aching, swollen joints and rash. However, in rare cases these viruses, especially MVEV, can lead to a serious inflammation of the brain and result in long term disability or even death.

"There are no specific cures or vaccines for mosquito-borne diseases in Western Australia, so it is very important that people take care to prevent being bitten," he said.

An increase in the number of March flies has also been reported in the Pilbara region. At least one species of March fly, known to occur in parts of the Pilbara and northern Goldfields, has a bite that can cause serious allergic reactions in some people.

"Although March flies are not known to transmit diseases to humans in Australia, the bites of some species can cause allergic reactions, including skin redness and swelling. In rare cases, people may also experience serious symptoms such as hives, fever, wheezing and even anaphylaxis which requires urgent medical attention", Dr Lindsay said.

Patient Assisted Travel Scheme

Our commitment: The Nationals WA will improve the Patient Assisted Travel Scheme with a $52 million investment.

Background

The Patient Assisted Travel Scheme (PATS) provides financial subsidies toward some of the travel and accommodation expenses associated with receiving medical treatment that is not available in their home town.

The Nationals WA believe PATS needs to be improved to ensure the standard of healthcare in regional areas, and access to these services, is comparable to the metropolitan area.

A recent Parliamentary inquiry into PATS highlighted a number of issues, recommending changes to eligible health services and the outdated subsidy schedule for fuel and accommodation costs.

Royalties for Regions provided a much needed funding boost to PATS in 2008/09, but it is the vision of The Nationals WA to see PATS transformed so it better meets the needs of those living in regional WA.

What we know:

PATS needs to be improved. The Parliamentary Inquiry identified several problems with the way eligibility is determined, the outdated subsidy schedule for fuel and accommodation expenses, the health services covered and the process for claiming.

Distance criteria can be unfair

A family requires weekly specialist medical care for their two children at Princess Margaret Hospital. The family lives within 100km of the hospital and are not deemed eligible to receive financial subsidy for fuel and accommodation costs, despite the considerable distance travelled over the weeks and months.

Patient preference is not taken into account

The Scheme will only provide subsidies to the nearest specialists. This may be a private practitioner where patients are faced with higher costs, or a practitioner that isn't preferred.

No retrospective claiming

If a patient requires urgent after-hours medical treatment in Perth, there is currently no capacity for retrospective claiming to assist with their return travel expenses.

Our commitment:

If The Nationals WA are in government after the next election, we will commit $52million to enhancing the Patient Assisted Travel Scheme by:

Increasing the Existing Subsidies:

- Increasing the fuel subsidy to 19 cents;
- Increasing the accommodation subsidy to cover approximately 50% of the average hotel rate in Perth (Private $23, $46 (with escort); Commercial $100 (with or without an escort);

Changing the Eligibility Requirements:

- Changing the air travel eligibility to 8 hours or 700km surface travel, instead of the current 16 hours or 1,400kms;
- Including eligibility for cumulative travel (greater than 200kms for 2 or more trips per week);
- Changing the Scheme to provide patients with access to the public health system in the first instance, even if that is further away.

Enhancing the Scheme:

- Extending subsidies for patients with treatment modalities greater than 6 months;
- Providing patients requiring long term treatment and their escorts with the option to return home once, every 30 days;
- Providing pregnant women with an additional week of accommodation when relocating for childbirth, and providing funding assistance for a travelling escort;
- Including coverage for:
 - Allied health services (Out-patient department referred)
 - Dental treatment for children aged 9-16 under General Admission,
 - Oral medical and oral pathology specialists services; and
- Implementing an electronic application and claims form system

Video counselling now available in Goldfields and Midwest

360 Health + Community are proud to offer telephone and video counselling to those living rurally and remotely in the Midwest and Goldfields.

This service is provided by mental health professionals specifically trained to deliver telephone and video counselling. Research has identified that telephone and video counselling can be as effective as face to face counselling in addressing mental health concerns.

Telephone and video counselling can be done in the comfort of home, or in some community resource centres including Shark Bay, Hopetoun, Leinster, Norseman, Tjuntjuntjara, Cue, Dongara, Kalbarri and Mingenew.

Referrals can be made by GPs, health professionals and community agencies. A Mental Health Care Plan is not required if the referral is received from a health professional or community agency.

The Mind Care referral form can be found at 360.org.au/GP.

Please nominate 'Mental Health Services Rural and Remote' as the service option, and 'telephone/video counselling' as the psychological strategy.

Fax the referral form to 08 6210 1447 (Midwest) or 08 6270 4428 (Goldfields).

This service is delivered in collaboration with Womens Health and Family Services and is funded by Western Australian Primary Health Alliance.
